NOTIFICATION.

No. 114Com.—13th January 1941.—Whereas in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 (VII of 1929), a Court of Inquiry was appointed under notification No. 2154Com., dated the 29th June 1940, to investigate the trade dispute between Messrs. George Henderson and Co., Ltd., of 101/1, Clive Street, Calcutta, Managing Agents, Bally Jute Mill, Bally, district Howrah, and the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments of the said Mill;—

And whereas, in accordance with the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 5 of the said Act, the Court of Inquiry has submitted its report to the Governor;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of sub-section (1) of section 12 of the said Act, the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said report in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Governor,

M. K. KIRPALANI,

Joint Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Report of the Court of Enquiry appointed under section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act, 1929 (Act VII of 1929), to investigate the trade dispute between Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., of 101/1, Clive Street, Calcutta, Managing Agents, Bally Jute Mill, Bally, district Howrah, and the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments of the said Mill.

This report arises out of a Court of Inquiry set up under section 3 of the Trade Disputes Act to investigate the dispute existing between the workers of the Weaving and Jute Departments on the one hand, and the management on the other, of the Bally Jute Mills. These mills are situated at Bally, in the district of Howrah, and managed by Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., of Calcutta. At the time that the incidents connected with the present proceedings occurred, Mr. H. C. Wilkie was the Manager of the mill, Mr. J. C. K. Watson was the Overseer in charge of the Jute Department, and Mr. Craig in charge of the Weaving Department. Mr. McKenzie officiated for Mr. Watson for a few weeks in December 1939 and January 1940.

The circumstances leading up to the enquiry are these:—

In August 1939, some workers of the Weaving Department headed by Khalil approached the Manager with allegations of bribery and extortion against one Karim Sardar. Not much heed, it is said, was paid to the complaint, and the aggrieved men thinking that redress would not be possible through the proper channel, were persuaded to seek the help of the Bengal National Jute Workers' Union. An investigation was made by Mr. Shafaatullah Khan, but that was as far as the matter got. The men then appealed to the Labour Commissioner who wrote to the Manager on 21st September 1939, asking for the full facts. In reply the Managing Agents said that as the investigation had indicated the probability of the truth of the charges against Karim, steps would be taken for his dismissal. Soon after this a complaint was received from Mr. Shafaatullah Khan that the dismissal of Karim had also involved the discharge of Khalil and several others who were members of his Union. There was a joint enquiry by the Assistant Labour Commissioner and Mr. Das, the Labour Officer of the Indian Jute Mills Association, on the 12th December 1939. It was represented to the Assistant Labour Commissioner that except six men, Khalil, Jalil, Bechu, Nabi, Sadeq and Abdul Satter who had been dismissed for an incident on 5th October 1939, the others had been suspended for bad work and would be reinstated as soon as work was available. Nothing, however, came of this assurance, and on 9th January 1940, some of the suspended men came to the Labour Commissioner to say that they had not yet got their jobs back. The management's reply to his enquiry was that only four of the men had been suspended, while the others had been dismissed for misconduct and breach of discipline, thus resiling from their previous statement that with the exception of six persons the rest had been subjected simply to temporary suspension. As the company's attitude in this respect seemed to be unrelenting, and all efforts for a satisfactory arrangement failed, the only course left open was the appointment of a Court of Inquiry.

While this dispute was in progress, signs of trouble were manifest among workers in another department of the mill. The relevant facts are as follows:—

On the 29th December 1939, the Manager received a petition signed by some bale-carriers and coolies containing allegations of bribery and extortion against the Babus of the Jute Department. It was alleged that workers had to bribe the clerks to get jobs and to keep them. It was said that the attendance register was so manipulated that men received wages far more than their due share of work, the balance going into the pockets of the Babus. It was also suggested that bogus tickets of bale-carriers and coolies were kept and their wages dishonestly appropriated by the clerks. The complaint led to an enquiry by the Manager who was unable to detect any irregularity, though the men contended that some bogus tickets had been discovered at the time. No action was taken until, it is said, the men, finding no improvement in the situation, sent a petition direct to the Managing Agents. The petition was refused, but the Sales Master came down on the 3rd February 1940, and questioned some of the men. It was a Pyrrhic victory for the workers, however, as from the following Monday the services of 28 bale-carriers and coolies were dispensed with. After being turned away from the mill gates, the men approached the Labour Commissioner, but his attempts to intercede with the management on their behalf met with little response. Nevertheless, the Labour Commissioner visited the mill. He questioned the men, examined the attendance registers and was convinced that there was some substance in the allegations of bribery against the clerical staff. Also the entry of some names in the register in unusual places pointed almost beyond doubt to interpolation, while the clerks' failure to explain the numerous corrections and erasures seemed to lend considerable support to the theory of bogus tickets. Regarding the wholesale dismissals on 5th February the Manager's explanation was that this was due to retrenchment. He also said that apprehending trouble from the discharged men he had recruited new hands temporarily so as to prevent disorganisation of work in the event of a strike. The workers on the other hand maintained that the Manager's action was not so much a measure of retrenchment as a gesture of the company's disapproval of the men's attempt to subject it to pressure from outside. It might be mentioned here that during the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February the Manager made no mention of the engagement of these extra hands, and the fact was elicited later over the telephone. All attempts at conciliation met with scant sympathy from the management, and it became increasingly clear that if Government wanted a proper investigation it would have to be under the Trade Disputes Act.

As a matter of fact as early as 29th February 1940, Mr. Shafaatullah Khan had made an application that the dispute be referred to such a Court. A similar prayer had also been made previously in respect of the dismissals of certain weavers of the mill. Accordingly I was appointed to be the Court of Inquiry with the direction to enquire into and report on the circumstances of the trade dispute existing between the workmen of the Weaving and Jute Departments and Messrs. George Henderson & Co., Ltd., and in particular to report on—

(1) Whether the allegations of bribery and extortion made by the workers against the clerical staff of the Jute Department are true;

(2) Whether certain clerks of the Jute Department (e.g., Abhoy, Tripura, Moni and Nishu) jointly or severally kept bogus names of bale-carriers and coolies on the registers, and directly or indirectly through the workers received the weekly wages for these fictitious men;

(3) Whether the labourers working in the Jute Department of the mill suffered by having to work overtime and on Sundays in order to complete the work represented to have been done by a greater number of men or in any other way, and if so, whether they were properly paid for the extra work;

(4) Whether the dismissals of certain workers of the Jute Department on the 5th February 1940 were justified;

(5) Whether the mill authorities attempted to give preference to those who had previously worked for the company in the case of any new hands recruited on or after the 5th February 1940; and, if such workmen were not given preference, on what grounds?

(6) Whether there were sufficient and adequate reasons for the dismissal of a labourer named Jagat of the Jute Department on or about the 22nd February 1940;

(7) Whether the dismissal of the following men of the Weaving Department was justified:—

Khalil Ahmed on or about 5th October 1939.
Jalil on or about 27th November 1939.
Bechu on or about 27th November 1939.

Nobi Muhammad on or about 27th November 1939,
Sadiq on or about 27th November 1939,
Abdul Sattar on or about 27th November 1939,

(8) Were the following workers of the Weaving Department dismissed on or about 20th November 1939 or otherwise punished? If so, for what offences and with what justification:—

Rozan,
Bisnath,
Nasir,
Zakir,
Yusuf,
Bhagan,
Walijan alias Wali Muhammad and another.

The Court commenced its sitting on the 15th July 1940. The statement of the workers was already in the file and the written statement on behalf of the company was put in on the 25th July 1940. In all 32 witnesses were examined for the workers on various dates. The Manager gave evidence on behalf of the company, while the Factory Inspector, the Labour Commissioner and the Assistant Labour Commissioner were examined as Court witnesses. I also went round the mill and made enquiries from the labourers regarding the allegations of bribery against the Babus. Arguments were heard on the 9th August 1940. At the enquiry the management was represented by Mr. H. D. Kitching (Solicitor, Orr Dignam & Co.) and the workers by Mr. Shafaatullah Khan.

I shall now discuss the issues separately:—

1. Bribery and extortion of the clerks.

On this point the case of the workers is that they had to pay the various clerks of the Jute Department for securing employment. Homage in cash was also exacted from time to time as security for tenure of the jobs, while religious festivals became occasions for special peace offerings. It is alleged that the registers were so manipulated that the men received more wages than were due to them, the arrangement being that after receipt of their wages they would refund the excess amounts to the Babus who kept record of such payments. There was the further allegation that Tripura Babu forced many of the men to buy their provisions from his brother's shop at Uttarpara on pain of dismissal. The company did not hold any brief for the Babus, but stated that in spite of surprise checks and enquiries by the management, no case of bribery or extortion had been detected. They, however, were perfectly willing to render every assistance to the Court and were prepared to dismiss any of their staff found guilty of such offences, if Government so desired.

In a charge of this nature the evidence must, in the main, be oral, because it is not always easy to prove instances of illegal gratification on paper. Here we have the testimony of several workers who unequivocally assert that they had to pay money to Abhoy, Moni, Tripura and Nishu Babus before they could get any work. The charge against Abhoy Babu, the former Head Clerk, need not be considered in detail, as he has already retired from the service of the company. But it might be mentioned in passing that all the witnesses with one accord testify to the manner in which he exacted payments both at the time of recruitment and on special occasions such as the Durga Pujahs, Christmas and Kali Pujah. Money had also to be given from time to time to save the men from losing their jobs. Regarding Tripura Babu ten witnesses gave specific instances of payment. Dwarika, one of the bale-carriers dismissed on the 5th February 1940, says that after he returned to duty for the season in Sraban last he had to pay Rs. 15 as bribe to Tripura Babu before being able to join. He goes on to say that though from Sraban to Agrahayan last he worked only three or four days a week, he drew wages for five or six days and the excess wages had to be handed over to the Babus who kept a list showing the amounts due from each worker. Similarly Jagat, another dismissed bale-carrier, cites an instance of payment of Rs. 12 to Tripura Babu at the time of entering service in Ashar last. It appears that after working for four months he was forced to pay another Rs. 16 in order to retain his job. This amount of Rs. 12 he managed to secure by a loan of Rs. 8 from a Brahmin working in the Spinning Department of the mill, Rs. 3 from his brother in Kamarhaty, and the remaining Re. 1 he paid from his pocket. The Brahmin, Ongre Pandey, supported his story of the loan. Mohon, a cooly, said that he paid Rs. 14 to Tripura Babu when he joined in October 1939, and a further sum of Rs. 8 in the following Pous on his return from leave. He borrowed Rs. 14 from a mahajan called Prahlad who corroborates the witness on this point. Similar instances of payment are mentioned by witnesses Mongal, Lala, Govindhari, Jamuna, Ramdas, Baleswar and Ramprakash. All of them except Mongal are still in the company's employ and, therefore, have no particular reason to depose falsely against the Babus. Rather they would run the risk of incurring their displeasure by speaking in support of the dismissed men. As regards Moni Babu and Nishu Babu the only witness who actually saw them taking money is Dwarika. The others have no first-hand knowledge of their guilt, though they are convinced that all the Babus took a share of the illegal proceeds. Tripura, Moni and Nishu Babus who were permitted to be present at the enquiry and to cross-examine the witnesses, contended that the nature of their testimony clearly indicated that they had been tutored; Tripura Babu said that the persons who had given evidence against him were mostly his brother's debtors for purchase made from his shop. Many of the witnesses denied the suggestion of being indebted to Tripura's brother, and this clerk did not produce any account books to prove his allegation as he had originally assured the Court he would do. On behalf of the workers it was urged that as Tripura's brother's clientèle had perforce to be large, it would not be surprising to find some of the witnesses in that category.

Mr. Kitching too pointed out the extreme similarity of their evidence which he thought was suggestive of concoction. I do not admit the logic of this argument. Having regard to the consistent manner in which the witnesses deposed, giving details of the time and circumstances of each payment which are not likely to have been fabricated, I am inclined to believe them. They are also supported by men who are still in service of the company, and so should have no cause to support the "malcontents". Another fact should be borne in mind, and that is that the fair fame of the Babus is not without blemish, for the Manager admitted that in 1936 on a similar complaint Moni and Abhoy Babus were fined Rs. 20 each for suspected bribery—rather a good instance of punishment not being made to fit the crime.

As regards the payment of excess wages the evidence of the witnesses is full and clear. Dwarika says that though from Sraban to Agrahayan he worked only three or four days a week he drew wages for five or six days; the excess amount was refunded to one or other of the Babus. Fekoo, a cooly, makes a similar statement, and so do Mongal, Bhikari, Jamuna, Ramdas, Ramprakash, Baleswar and Gobindhari. Mongol says that though he worked only one day in the first week of his recruitment, he was paid for the full week, viz., Rs. 11-14-6. Out of this he kept Rs. 1-15-6 and gave the balance to Tripura Babu. According to Jamuna and Ramdas, every week one or two days' wages had to be handed over to Tripura Babu. The witnesses described how the Babus kept lists showing the amounts thus due from each man, and how on every pay day the workers had to part unwillingly with their illgotten gains. Much of the evidence on this point has been left unassailed by cross-examination. Nor did Tripura, Moni or Nishu Babu adduce evidence to the contrary as they assured me at the beginning of the enquiry they would. In order to test the story further I went round the mill and questioned as many men of the Jute Department as possible, and came away with the conviction that the charge of bribery at least was substantially true. Of course many of them refused to tell me anything, but the way in which they declined to commit themselves gave one the impression that these men had been warned in their own interest to keep their mouths shut.

Moreover, a glance at the attendance register maintained by Nishu Babu will prove the extreme lack of supervision on the part of the authorities. The book is full of unauthorised and inexplicable alterations and entries, thereby making it possible for the clerks to keep a record of their own choice, a record over which the management exercised little control. I shall deal with this matter in detail when discussing the question of bogus tickets.

From a consideration of these circumstances, therefore, I am led to the conclusion that Abhoy, Moni, Tripura and Nishu Babus were in the habit of receiving bribes from the workers both at the time of recruitment and on special occasions; that they exacted this money by threats of dismissal or other manifestations of their displeasure; that they conspired with the workers to draw more wages than were fairly due to them, and appropriated to themselves the excess amounts.

2. Maintenance of bogus tickets.

As regards this issue the allegation is that the clerks kept bogus names of bale-carriers and coolies in the register, and with the help of the men (who no doubt were given a share of the proceeds) drew the wages of the non-existent persons. To prove this Dwarika says that he never knew any bale-carrier by the name of Lalu, Lagan, Lachman or Hira, though wages for these persons were drawn for several weeks by some of the workers and handed over to the Babus. Lala, another baler-carrier, corroborates Dwarika on this point. Saukhi Sardar admits that he too had never known any bale-carriers, called Lalu, Lagan, Lachman or Hira. Baleswar deposed that he drew wages on Lagan's ticket for three weeks and paid the money to Tripura Babu, while Ramprakash alleges to have done the same on Lalu's ticket for a similar period. It is interesting to note the statement of Ramprakash in cross-examination about the way in which he took off his pugree to prevent recognition by the Kerani Sahib when he went up to receive the wages on the bogus ticket. Such a graphic description of an incident can, in my opinion, only proceed from actual experience. I do not think it probable that persons of the mental calibre of Ramprakash, Baleswar and others could have invented such a story. So far for the oral evidence.

The documentary evidence is no less significant. A reference to the attendance register of the Jute Department will make clear the numerous alterations, corrections and erasures of entries—most of them highly suspicious and inexplicable. To illustrate my point it will be convenient to examine the entries for some weeks during the period in question.

(a) Weeks ending 5th August 1939, 12th August 1939 and 19th August 1939.—No names of workers appear against Nos. 62 and 66, presumably because they were absent. This would seem to suggest that when a person was absent the practice was to leave a blank against his name in the register. But Nishu Babu who is responsible for the maintenance of the register said that as the names of workers were entered weeks ahead, absence without long notice necessitated correction of names. At least that is how he tried to explain the reason for so many alterations in the register. Clearly both these explanations cannot be correct. If the latter practice was in vogue, there seems to be no reason for the exception made during these few weeks in August; and if the custom was to omit the names, then the explanation given by the clerk is untenable. Another curious feature is that numbers given to different men are changed frequently without any rhyme or reason. Thus one Pardip who was allotted No. 68 from 26th August 1939 was suddenly given No. 76 from 21st October 1939, and his old number allotted to one Barhoo. Feku was No. 48 from 23rd September 1939, but from 21st October 1939 he became No. 77, and Jakhan became No. 48. Barhoo and Himraj were Nos. 93 and 94 on 11th November 1939, but were changed to 101 and 102 on 18th November 1939, and their old numbers given to Jagannath and Dipu. On 25th November 1939 Deonath and Jamuna were given Nos. 101 and 102 and Barhoo and Himraj became Nos. 103 and 104. Lachman and Hira who appeared on 25th November 1939 as Nos. 114 and 115 were given 120 and 121 on 2nd December 1939.

(b) Weeks ending 9th December 1939, 16th December 1939 and 23rd December 1939.—Lalu's and Lagan's names are evidently at the bottom of the page between Nos. 27 and 78, while Lachman and Hira reappear under Nos. 120 and 121. Abdul Gani, a pile-maker, comes at the bottom of the page as No. 124. There was plenty of space to write the names of Lalu, Lagan and Abdul Gani after the others as was done on 16th December 1939 and previously, but for some unknown reason this was not done. For the week ending 23rd December 1939 Kangali No. 72 was marked absent after being shown present, and in his place Hari No. 72A was put in.

(c) In the week ending 30th December 1939 Hari and Lachman were marked absent with "a", which is very unusual. The usual practice, so far as could be ascertained from the register, is to draw a line. The reason for this departure could not be explained by the clerk. Nishu Babu, on being questioned, said that he often did not check the attendance but relied on the information supplied by Abhoy Babu. Hence he said the numerous alterations. He also tried to make the Court believe that even the hours of attendance were noted beforehand in the register against each worker, and that if any one did not work full time, necessary alterations were made. But he could not reconcile this explanation with the numerous blanks in the attendance column against workers—presumably due to their absence from duty.

(d) Week ending 6th January 1940.—The attendance of Mahabir No. 8 on Saturday morning was marked and subsequently cancelled. A similar change was made in case of Himraj (No. 103) and Siree (No. 112). Again Lalu's name was inserted below No. 27 and the numerical order of bale-carrier changed suddenly, to reappear after No. 115.

(e) Week ending 13th January 1940.—Rameswar No. 83 is marked present after being shown absent on Saturday. Nathuni No. 28, Kusum No. 37 were marked present on Monday morning after having been shown absent. Alterations of the same nature were made in the case of Ramdás on Saturday and Amalba on Thursday. Jokhan No. 71 in the same way was marked absent on Sunday and Wednesday though at first he was shown present. Instances of this kind could be multiplied, but the ones mentioned above will afford sufficient illustration, I think, of the lamentably slack supervision of the controlling staff. Nishu Babu of course says that these alterations were necessary as entries were generally made in advance without any reference to the actual attendance of workers. This explanation of his has unfortunately been shaken by the evidence of Mr. Craig, the Departmental Manager, who stated that the attendance of nobody was marked until he himself had checked it in the morning.

Now let us turn to the bogus tickets. The tickets specifically mentioned by the witnesses are those of Lalu, Lagan, Lachman and Hira. If we examine the place and the manner in which these names have been entered in the register, we will find ample ground for suspicion. It will appear that Lachman's and Hira's names were not for some reason written with the other bale-carriers; they come after the pile-makers in the week ending 25th November 1939. They disappear during the following weeks, but are shown on 9th December 1939, against Nos. 120 and 121, while their previous Nos. 114 and 116 are given to Mongal and Gobindhari. They work under these numbers until 23rd December 1939, and for the weeks ending 30th December 1939 and 6th January 1940 they are marked absent. No explanation of course is forthcoming as to why their names were entered for two weeks when they clearly were not working and no substitutes were taken.

As regards Lalu and Lagan they appear for the first time in the week ending 2nd December 1939, but it is curious that their names were entered in ink of a noticeably different shade to that of the other entries. During the ensuing weeks their names were again written in different ink and were inserted at the bottom of one of the intermediate pages of the register after serial No. 27, up to which point the serial numbers had proceeded in proper order. To make these entries extra pencil lines had been added. Nishu Babu's explanation before the Labour Commissioner was that he thought that he must have run out of ink just before he came to make the entries of Lalu and Lagan. As regards the position of the entries he explained that in the list of workers all the bale-carriers were entered consecutively and all the bale-makers were also grouped together, and that if Lalu and Lagan had been entered at the end of the list, their names would have been inconveniently separated from the other bale-carriers, and so in order to prevent this, he squeezed their names at the bottom of the page after

No. 27. For the week ending 16th December 1939 Lalu and Lagan were again entered at the bottom of the first page on pencil lines. This week it appeared, however, that Abdul Gani, although a pile-maker, was entered among the coolies. It cut the ground off Nishu Babu's feet rather. To counter this difficulty he wanted to say that Abdul Gani's name must have been forgotten until after the total of the wages on the previous pages had been added up, making it thereby impossible to insert his name among the pile-makers without upsetting the total. The explanation was futile, since Abdul Gani was shown as working from the beginning of the week, while the totals of wages could only have been made up at the end of the week and there could be no question of the insertion of his name after the making up of the totals. During the next week a change takes place, and Lalu and Lagan, though shown in the register, do not appear to have attended or received wages. Of course no reason could be assigned as to why their names were entered when they were not working from the beginning of the week. Lalu again appears on 6th January 1940 but is shown to have received no payment. Lagan conveniently drops out altogether. The dates are important. It may be recalled that the first petition to the Manager mentioning the existence of bogus tickets of Lalu and Lagan was dated 29th December 1939. Lalu and Lagan, though entered in the register, are not shown to have worked for the week ending 30th December 1939. It is curious that no attendance or wages were entered for the first time against these two names, in the very week in which the workers complained to the Manager, and that thereafter the names are omitted altogether. The irresistible inference is that the clerks, coming to know of the complaint and of the Manager's impending enquiry on 6th January 1940, thought it wise not to draw the wages on the bogus tickets. In this connection the entries for the week ending 6th January 1940 will reveal an interesting feature. Several names appear to have been scored through together with the attendance previously marked against them. The names are Ramswarup No. 33, Jagannath No. 40, Baleswar No. 43, Jokhan No. 48, Ram Nahar No. 49, Kissen No. 61, Ramadin No. 65 and Bargui No. 68. The strange thing about it is that they were originally shown as having worked for the whole week, but for some mysterious reason were crossed out. No explanation has been offered for this change by Nishu Babu beyond the statement that he often had to make these changes after consulting Abhoy Babu. By this he means, I suppose, that he relied upon Abhoy Babu to keep him informed of the absence of the workers from duty, though he is the Hazri Babu. It is very difficult to believe that so many persons would be marked present for a full week if really they had not been present at all. If Abhoy Babu knew of their absence it is not understood why he did not inform Nishu Babu about it for so many days. All these circumstances tend to lend support to the suggestion that these names were really bogus and that when the clerks came to know of the Manager's enquiry on 6th January 1940, they hastily marked them absent for the whole week in order to prevent exposure. As it turned out, however, the Manager never referred to the register at all for checking the payments, and the clerks were spared the ordeal of having to explain these unaccountable cancellations.

There is one matter which needs mention and that is the assertion made by some of the witnesses that at the time of the Manager's enquiry several bogus tickets were discovered. Mr. Wilkie has emphatically stated that he found no bogus tickets, and that only one ticket of Nasiruddin was left over in the box. I must accept his evidence in this respect, for I think it likely that the men having noticed at least one ticket in the box allowed their imagination to colour their judgment. Nor was the Manager's enquiry of much help. Mr. Wilkie's evidence is that he did not check the wage tickets with the attendance register on the day of enquiry, and that he was not in a position to say whether the workers, assembled in the godown, represented the total number of men actually working in the mill. Under these conditions it cannot be definitely inferred that because the Manager failed to detect bogus tickets in the box on 6th January 1940, there were no bogus names in the register. All that Nishu Babu had to do was to remove the bogus tickets from the box and the Manager would be none the wiser.

Mr. Kitching wondered why the men should, all of a sudden, have experienced righteous indignation at the clerks' dishonesty when they had been content so long to view the company's loss with equanimity. The reason is not far to seek, though we have no direct evidence of it. There is little doubt that the wages of these bogus tickets had to be drawn through the workers who must have exacted a price for their connivance, so that when there was a hitch among the partners the truth leaked out.

I am, therefore, satisfied from the materials on record that so far at least as Nishu Babu is concerned the only reasonable hypothesis on which the unaccountable entries in the register can be explained is that of this man's guilt. The facts admit of no other sensible explanation. The complicity of the other Babus also (Moni, Abhoy and Tripura) may safely be inferred from the attendant circumstances.

3. Working over-time and on Sundays.

Mr. Shafaatullah Khan agreed not to press this issue. It appeared from the evidence of the Factory Inspector that permission had always been taken for working on Sundays. Wages were also paid for attendance on those days. As to working over-time on week days the evidence of the men is inconclusive and it could not be ascertained how long, if at all, they were made to work after hours without remuneration. The company did not deny working over-time occasionally, but maintained that they did this without offending any of the provisions of the Factories Act. For this reason and in view of Mr. Shafaatullah Khan's reluctance to pursue the matter, my answer to this question must be in the negative.

4 & 5. Dismissal of workers of the Jute Department on 5th February 1940 and the recruitment of new hands.

These two issues may be taken up together, for it seems to me that the latter issue could appropriately be considered as a corollary of the former. The case for the employees is that Dwarika and the others (28 in all) were unjustly turned out on 5th February 1940, because the mill authorities thought that in appealing to the Managing Agents against their decision, the men had been guilty of lèse majesté. The company's reply to this is twofold. In the first place, it is asserted that the management is at liberty to dismiss any employee without any reason, provided due notice or wages in lieu thereof is given. And secondly, it was pointed out that in the present case the men had been discharged and not dismissed owing to the seasonal falling off of jute imports. In other words, the men were retrenched and not turned away for complaining against the authorities.

To judge better the merits of these opposite claims I collected such information as I could from the mill registers about the quantity of jute in hand round about that period. This would furnish some idea of the amount of work the mill would be expected to cope with. The following figures will serve as illustration:—

Bales received for the week ending:—

27th January 1940	...	4,120
20th January 1940	...	5,338
13th January 1940	...	4,318
6th January 1940	...	8,187
3rd February 1940	...	5,708
10th February 1940	...	4,043
17th February 1940	...	4,874
24th February 1940	...	2,524

Bales consumed for week ending:—

27th January 1940	...	2,978
20th January 1940	...	2,963
13th January 1940	...	2,991
6th January 1940	...	3,432
3rd February 1940	...	2,991
10th February 1940	...	2,784

On 27th January 1940 it was calculated that 4,457 bales were lying in the canal awaiting storage. From these figures it does not appear that there was any appreciable decrease of imports in January to justify the sudden discharge of so many hands on 3rd February 1940. On the contrary for the week ending 3rd February 1940 more bales were received than during the three previous weeks. The consumption similarly was not less than in January. Moreover if 5,940 bales were lying in the canal on 3rd February 1940 there could be little prospect of a slack time in the immediate future. If, as the Manager says, it was possible to foresee the probable amount of work three or four days ahead, I find it somewhat difficult to fathom the reason for the discharge of as many as 28 hands on 3rd February. At least the state of affairs apparent from the registers cannot be reconciled with the company's plea that retrenchment was effected for shortage of work. As a matter of fact, the statement given below will show that the number of workers remained practically stationary throughout January and February, 1940. This proves that in effect there was no retrenchment.

For the week ending:

6th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	14 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	54

13th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	13 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	43

20th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	23 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	55

27th January 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	16 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	46

3rd February 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	16 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	42

10th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	15 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	40

17th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	15 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	40

24th February 1940—

Bale-carriers	...	...	16 pairs.
Coolies ...	...	...	40

With this must be considered the question of recruitment of several new men on 5th February 1940. The Manager's explanation is that when the men, discharged on 3rd February 1940, refused to take their wages, he apprehended trouble and brought 12 men from Sibpur to prevent disorganisation of work in case of a strike. There was no trouble and the 12 men were kept on for some weeks, the reason for their retention being the company's disinclination to send them away without work. I am afraid I do not quite appreciate the force of this argument. If there was really no work for the men they could easily have been given a day or two's wages as compensation or even a week's wages and sent away. Instead of that not only were they kept on, but several others employed during the following weeks.

In this connection should be mentioned the fact that the names of these men were not shown in the regular register but entered in a separate book, and their wages were debited to "shifting charges". "Shifting charges" according to Nishu Babu are charges incurred for shifting bales from one godown into another. If this definition be correct then it is strange that these charges do not appear anywhere in the register except in those weeks during which these extra hands were entertained, though bales were shifted on occasions other than the three or four weeks in February. It is to be noted that the clerk's evidence on this point is at variance with that of the Manager who says that except those few weeks the mill never incurred any shifting charges. The non-entry of their names also in the regular register calls for comment. It seems that during the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February 1940 these persons did not muster with the others, nor were their names in the attendance register. The Factory Inspector was later told that they had been entered in a separate book. When he wanted to see this book on 6th March 1940 he was told that it had been destroyed. All this recourse to subterfuge could have been avoided had no attempt been made to conceal the presence of the new men at the time of inspection on 21st February 1940.

Another point of significance is that though 26 new hands were taken between 5th February and 25th May 1940, to cope with the rush of work in connection with re-stored jute, except Baijnath, Lalchand, Jadoo and Kisan, not one of the other dismissed men was re-employed. If really these men had been retrenched one would imagine that when work was available they would again be given a chance. The management can hardly say that they were not available, because these unemployed people must have been haunting the precincts of the mill during that time.

In the face of these facts one finds it difficult to escape from the conclusion that the case for the management suffers by comparison, and that the interpretation put by the workers on the company's action is more consistent with reason. By this I do not wish to imply that the Manager was personally interested in this matter, but I suspect that the subordinate staff painted the situation in a manner that led him to believe that the men would cause trouble if they were not summarily dismissed. That was the Manager's belief is borne out by his requisition for police help (evidence of Mr. Murshedi); though his fears turned out to be unfounded.

It was contended that in view of the company's legal right to discharge its employees without assigning any reason, the questions raised by these issues do not arise. There is no dispute that under the existing terms of the contract the company is at liberty to dismiss any employee with a week's notice or wages in lieu thereof. But the question for decision here is not whether the company has or has not such a right, but whether the dismissals were justified, that is to say, whether there was any just or reasonable cause for dispensing with the services of these men. Mr. Kitching urged the Court not to consider the morality of the dismissals, as that would necessarily involve one in a consideration of the ethical basis of contracts, which is clearly outside the scope of the present enquiry. While realising the wisdom of this observation, I feel that Government would not be transgressing the limits of its power if it attempted to see that the employer exercised this right consistent with the principles of equity, and to secure to the employee justice and fair-play.

On these grounds I hold that the dismissals on 5th February 1940 were without just and reasonable cause, and that the reason for the company's reluctance to engage the discharged men is to be sought in the management's belief that the malcontents would foment trouble.

6. Dismissal of Jagat on 22nd February 1940.

This man had been a bale-carrier in the Jute Department for 16 or 17 years. His allegation is that he was dismissed the day after the Factory Inspector's visit on 21st February 1940, because he had advised some of the workers to go up to the officer and tell him that the new men recruited after the dismissal of Dwarika and others had not been produced before him. He says that the Babus noticed this and reported to the overseer, who took his ticket and told him to go. He appealed to the Manager without success. The company's case is that he was dismissed for inciting workers to strike, and for being insolent to the Manager.

There is no evidence that Jagat ever incited any employee of the company to strike. Mr. Wilkie himself could not recall any particular instance. He probably acted on the information of the clerks or sirdars when he called Jagat to reprimand him for his conduct. At the same time in the face of the Manager's evidence it is not at all unlikely that Jagat did behave towards him in an unbecoming manner. Jagat stoutly denied this but I cannot accept his word against that of the Manager. Therefore though I think that the authorities were justified in taking disciplinary action against Jagat, I feel that this was a case where mercy could have tempered justice. The punishment seemed unnecessarily severe and was perhaps inspired more by suspicion of Jagat's subversive activities than by his insolent conduct.

7. Dismissal of Khalil and other weavers on 27th November 1939.

The trouble with the weavers had its origin in the petition submitted sometime in August 1939, by Khalil and about 30 others to the Manager making allegations of bribery and corruption against one Karim Sardar. The Manager referred the matter to the Departmental Overseer Mr. Craig for confidential enquiry. In the meantime the men approached the Bengal National Jute Workers' Union who held an enquiry of their own. Then on 4th October Khalil says that Mr. Craig visited his loom several times which was very unusual, and so getting nervous he put in for eight weeks' leave. According to him his leave was granted, but that when he went to get his leave pass the overseer told him that as he was an old hand no pass was necessary. The case of the management on the other hand is that Khalil was dismissed for insubordination, disregard of discipline and causing trouble in the mill. As regards Jalil, Bechu, Nabi Muhammad, Sadeque and Abdul Sattar, the written statement of the company says that they were also dismissed on the same ground. Jalil, Nabi Muhammad and Sadeque who deposed in court, stated that they were dismissed on 27th November 1939 for no reason at all, that they did not create any disturbance at the mill or abuse any officer, nor were they told why they were being sent away.

I shall now consider whether the facts bear out the company's allegation, or support the case of the workers. The Assistant Labour Commissioner, Mr. Murshedi stated that at the time of his enquiry on 12th December 1939 the Manager told him that Khalil, Jalil, Nabi, Bechu, Sadeque and Sattar were dismissed for attempting to stop the men from entering the factory at 12-45 p.m. on 5th October 1939. It was also represented to him that about 300 men had collected and Khalil threatened and abused the Manager and harangued the men to go on strike. In the first place, there is disagreement between Mr. Craig and Mr. Wilkie as to who actually dismissed the six men. Mr. Craig seems to think that he dismissed them, whereas Mr. Wilkie says that he dismissed Khalil, but not the others. Secondly, neither of these gentlemen could give any definite instance of insubordination, or breach of discipline, or any attempt to incite the workers to strike on the part of these men, though they assert that Khalil and his followers were making trouble. Mr. Craig in cross-examination said that during the weeks prior to his dismissal Khalil was insubordinate and incited other workers not to work. This knowledge, however, he admitted, was not first-hand, and had been gathered apparently from other people in the mill. He also says that though there was no breach of discipline amongst the workers, "he felt that he was not getting the same amount of respect and a tension of feeling was noticed". He even admits that he never saw Khalil talking to the weavers. According to him there was no deterioration in the quantity or quality of the work of the weavers, and he is forced to admit that he cannot say why Jalil, Bechu, Nabi, Sadeque and Sattar were dismissed on 27th November 1939. Therefore so far as Mr. Craig is concerned, he has no knowledge as to the particular reason which led to the dismissal of the weavers except Khalil, and even against him he cannot cite any particular instance of insubordination, beyond a vague declaration that all was not well with the workers. Mr. Wilkie, on the other hand, says that except Khalil the other weavers were dismissed by Mr. Craig, though he was within sight of Mr. Craig at the time. As regards Khalil he confesses that the only instance he can think of about Khalil's inciting the men was at about 1 p.m. on 4th October when Khalil came forward to address him but could not do so as he went inside the mill. Beyond this he does not mention any instance of insubordination or indiscipline. Mr. Wilkie says in cross-examination, "Except the incident on the 4th October at 12-40 p.m. I did not notice any sign of Khalil's attempt to incite the workers. I did not actually hear at any time Khalil advising the men not to work. In dismissing him I only acted on hearsay and was solely guided by my feelings". From this it is clear that the management in dismissing these six men acted purely on suspicion and on confidential enquiries. If Bechu, Nabi, Sadeque, Sattar and Jalil were supporters of Khalil and were bent on making trouble, it is strange that they kept quiet and made no demonstration at all at the time of Khalil's dismissal.

In this state of the evidence I have no other alterative but to hold that the company have failed to explain to any degree of satisfaction the reasons which led them to discharge these six men. One is tempted to agree with the contention of the workers that they were dismissed not so much for any supposed breach of discipline as for the purpose of maintaining a balance of power after the dismissal of Karim.

8. Dismissal of workers on 20th November 1939.

The dismissal of these men were also connected with Khalil's complaint, as they were the first batch selected for discharge after Khalil. Of the dismissed men Raozan, Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan, Bisnath and Nasir were examined in court. Nasir's case stands on a different footing from the others and will be dealt with separately. The evidence of these men is that at the time of their dismissal, they were given the impression that they were being discharged for bad work.

At the outset, it should be noted that the position taken by the company before the court is different from the one adopted by the management during the preliminary enquiries of the Labour Commissioner and Assistant Labour Commissioner. During the Assistant Labour Commissioner's enquiry on 12th December 1939 the Manager's case was that all these men had been suspended for bad work, but in the written statement filed in court the Manager gives low production as being the reason for the suspension of Bhagan, Yusuf, Zakir and Wali Mohammad, but as regards Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir, he says that they were dismissed for insubordination, disregard of discipline and causing trouble in the mill. As I pointed out in the case of the men dismissed on 27th November 1939, the company has not adhered to the explanation originally given to the Labour Commissioner as to the cause of dismissal. At first the Manager told the Assistant Labour Commissioner that all these seven men were suspended for bad work and would be reinstated later. Then on 5th February 1940 the Managing Agents wrote to the Labour Commissioner that the facts of the case were not as represented by him, and that only Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan and Wali Mohammad had been suspended, while others had been dismissed for misconduct and breach of discipline. Thus Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir were classed with Khalil and others after the Manager had distinctly assured the Assistant Labour Commissioner that they had been temporarily suspended. As in the case of Khalil Mr. Wilkie is not in a position to give any specific instance of insubordination or indiscipline on the part of Raozan, Biswanath and Nasir. He says that they were dismissed by Mr. Craig, whereas the latter cannot assign any reason for their dismissal.

As regards Nasir the Manager said that Nasir was discharged for going away on leave without submitting a medical certificate, whereas in the written statement Nasir is classed with Raozan, Biswanath and Khalil who were dismissed for insubordination. Nasir explained that when he wanted leave on 9th October 1939 he was not given a leave-pass because he could not produce the mill doctor's certificate. Nasir says that he went to the doctor but could not find him and so left the mill and came back with another medical certificate on 22nd October 1939. The Manager probably thought that this was only an excuse for malingering, and he was accordingly discharged on 9th October 1939. It is difficult to say whether Nasir actually went to the doctor or not. However, there is no ground for dispute that Nasir did ask for leave and did not produce the mill doctor's certificate in support of his application. Very likely the management was not anxious to retain his services, but the reason is not clear. The Manager's case in the written statement is different from his evidence in court, and therefore it seems to me that Nasir's application for leave was seized as a convenient excuse for getting rid of him. That is why probably the company, while promising to take back Zakir, Yusuf and Bhagan, omitted the name of Nasir.

There remains the case of Zakir, Yusuf, Bhagan and Wali Muhammad. The last named is already in the mill's employ and the question of his dismissal does not arise. Regarding the others, Mr. Wilkie's case in the written statement is in conflict with the evidence of Mr. Craig. While the Manager thinks that these men were suspended for low production, Mr. Craig who is the departmental overseer and ought to be in a better position to judge, says that "there was no deterioration in the quantity or quality of work of these men". In the face of this admission I think the explanation in the written statement is untenable.

It will be evident that the management in dispensing with the services of the men on 20th November 1939 proceeded merely on suspicion and hearsay. Not a single witness, nor indeed the Manager or the overseer, is in a position to say that he actually saw any of these men talking to a weaver or inciting him to create disturbance, or commit any breach of discipline or insubordination. While admitting the great responsibility resting on the Manager to control the staff, I maintain that the responsibility which the employer owes to the employee is no less great; it is the responsibility to see that a man is not subjected to injustice and that he gets a hearing before any punishment is meted out to him.

Conclusion.

This investigation has emphasized certain unlovely features in the relations of capital and labour. It will be apparent that the dispute arose mainly from the absence of well defined conditions of service in the jute mills. Had there been properly formulated rules to guide the authorities there could not have occurred the impasse, necessitating the appointment of a Court of Enquiry. In my opinion the worker's greatest need now is permanency of service and security from arbitrary dismissal. The summary discharge of the men with a week's wages and without any substantial reason has shown the insecurity of their service, and their inability to obtain redress when injustice does occur. I therefore think that the right of the employer to dismiss an employee without assigning any reason needs considerable modification. An employer should not dismiss an employee without specific causes. The latter should always be given an opportunity to be heard, and there should be provision for appeal to a higher authority.

The difficulties in the present case were accentuated by the distrust felt by the company of all trade union activities. We have seen how workers who sought the aid of union leaders, became immediately suspect. With a little more sympathy and understanding I feel sure the management would have succeeded in conciliating the discontented men. After all a revolutionary is not born but is made, and the surest way to eliminate discontent is to view with patience the cause of the disaffected.

Before I conclude I must express my gratitude to the representatives of both parties for the help they gave me in the enquiry. My thanks are especially due to the Manager, Mr. Wilkie, for his unfailing courtesy and his readiness to place all records and other information at the disposal of the court whenever required.

Section 4, sub-section (1).	Establishment or continuance of a market without licence.	Five hundred rupees.	One hundred rupees.

Section 14, sub-section (2).	Refusal to make over possession of a market on suspension of licence or obstruction to its management or maintenance.	Five hundred rupees.	One hundred rupees.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In varying degrees in the markets in Bengal buyers and sellers, and in particular cultivators selling their produce, are subject to disadvantages and malpractices amongst which the following are the most prevalent:—

(i) Market charges and allowances levied by the owners of markets and by dealers are numerous and often excessive.

(ii) Weights and measures are of different kinds and this affords scope for cheating and unfair dealing.

(iii) In many markets there is inadequate provision for shelter, conservancy, water-supply, sanitation, drainage, and general accommodation.

(iv) Reliable information as to prices, and other marketing information is not usually available.

(v) Unjustified discounts and deductions are common.

(vi) Persons frequenting the markets are liable to be victimised by the levy of tolls of various kinds by unauthorised persons.

(vii) Produce is subject to no standard. This operates to the disadvantage of the buyer in that he may receive adulterated or mixed produce. It also operates to the disadvantage of the cultivator selling his produce in that he cannot get the best price for the best quality produce.

2. The object of the Bill is to secure better conditions in the markets for the public generally and to protect buyers and sellers, in particular cultivators selling their produce, from unjustified exactions and other malpractices which prevail.

3. The Bill accordingly provides for—

(i) the fixing of the kinds of market charges and fees which may be levied by the proprietors of markets and the rates at which they may be levied ;

(ii) the maintenances of sets of standard weights and measures in the markets against which weighment and measurements may be checked ;

(iii) requiring the proprietor of a market to provide adequate shelter, conservancy, water-supply, sanitation, drainage, etc., having regard to local conditions and the income derived from the markets ;

(iv) publication of reliable information as to prices and other marketing information ;

(v) prohibition of "trade allowances" and deductions other than those which may be prescribed as permissible ;

(vi) prevention of victimisation by the levy of various tolls by unauthorised persons ;

(vii) the conduct of transactions in agricultural produce according to standard grades and definitions of quality so that buyers may be protected against mixing and adulteration and that sellers will be able to dispose of their produce at values in accordance with its quality.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 44 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows:— V of 1898.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such day, as the Governor General in Council so directs.

Amendment of section 4, Act V of 1898.

2. In clause (r) of sub-section (1) of section 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898,— V of 1898.

(1) the figure and brackets "(1)" occurring before the words "an advocate" shall be omitted;

(2) the words, figure and brackets "and (2) any other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding" shall be omitted; and

(3) for the comma occurring after the word "authorised" a full stop shall be substituted.

*The Governor General has been pleased to accord the previous sanction required by section 119(1) of the Government of India Act, 1935.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

(1) The piece of enactment sought to be repealed which allows private unqualified people to appear and act in a criminal case with the permission of the Court was enacted when qualified pleaders were not easily available and could be engaged only at a heavy cost. At present there is no dearth of pleaders. This provision of law has, therefore, outlived its object.

(2) This enactment is against the spirit and letter of the Legal Practitioners Act.

(3) The discretion vested in the magistrates is responsible for creation of many an objectionable man enjoying the patronage of the magistrates.

(4) There is no enactment to checkmate the demeanour of these men. It is anomalous that these "half-educated" persons owe no responsibility to any one, whereas highly qualified advocates have to abide by the rules of High Courts and the provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act.

(5) These persons were originally allowed to appear on the grounds of preventing a possible miscarriage of justice, but the remedy is now worse than the evil sought to be remedied.

(6) In practice the engagement of such men is more costly than that of properly qualified men as they know how to extort exorbitant fees on pretences more than one.

(7) Members of the Bar whose field is now overcrowded are at a great disadvantage by their existence and their unscrupulous methods of getting themselves engaged.

It is compromising the dignity of the Bar to allow such men to appear and oppose qualified members of the Bar. It is high time that the existing provision be deleted from the Code.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL NO. 45 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898; It is hereby enacted as follows:— V of 1898.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on such day as the Governor General in Council so directs.

Amendment of section 250, Act V of 1898.

2. In sub-section (3) of section 250 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, for the words "by a Magistrate of the second or third class to pay compensation or has been so ordered by any other Magistrate to pay compensation exceeding fifty rupees" the words "by any Magistrate to pay compensation" shall be substituted. V of 1898.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under section 250, sub-section (3), an order of compensation is appealable when it exceeds Rs. 50. The result is that some Magistrates on purpose inflict a fine of Rs. 50 or less in order that the order may not be appealed against. It is true that a revision application could be filed against such an order, but a revision application involves a cumbrous procedure. High Courts are usually unwilling to entertain revision applications directly. They wish the applicant to first approach the Sessions Court or the District Magistrate to make a recommendation to them for revision of the order under section 438, Criminal Procedure Code. The hearing of the revision application in the High Court ordinarily takes any time from 3 to 6 months after a report from Sessions Court. It also involves the aggrieved party in a lot of expenditure in having to engage counsel for two Courts and also in having to go to the seat of the High Court to prosecute the application.

High Courts are also full up with criminal and civil work as is apparent from the fact that every High Court gets additional Judges appointed in addition to the sanctioned strength. The powers of High Courts in revision are absolutely discretionary and exercised sparingly whereas the appellate powers of every appeal Court are in actual practice more freely exercised. Times have changed and there is no reason why a person aggrieved of compensation of Rs. 50 or less should have no right of appeal.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly, on the 7th November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 46 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Evidence Act, 1872; It is hereby enacted as follow:— I of 1872.

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Evidence (Amendment) Act, 193 .

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the day it is passed.

Amendment of section 24, Act I of 1872.

2. In section 24 of the Indian Evidence Act, 1872 I of 1872. (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), after the word "Confession", wherever it occurs, the words "or statement" shall be inserted.

Amendment of section 25, Act I of 1872.

3. In section 25 of the said Act,—

(a) after the word "Confession" the words "or statement" shall be inserted; and

(b) for the word "to" the word "before" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 26, Act I of 1872.

4. In section 26 of the said Act, after the word "confession" the words "or statement" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The word "Confession" is not defined in the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, but the judicial view is that a confession is an admission made at any time by a person charged with a crime stating or suggesting the inference that he committed the same. There is a distinction between an admission and a confession, which, however, as it does not contain a definition of the word confession, does not itself declare in what that distinction exists. The nature of the distinction attempted to be made by the Courts is often very subtle, complicated and conflicting. Statement which is intended to be self-exculpatory may nevertheless be an admission of an incriminating circumstance. When in a prosecution for a crime the prosecutor relies upon the statement of the accused before the police on the ground of its being an exculpatory one, for the purpose of proving his guilt, it presumably suggests an inference of guilt. A misuse of such a statement for contradicting the accused's defence version at the trial is not unoften made. To remove such an abuse and the loophole, owing to there being no statutory definition of the word "confession", anything stated to the police by an accused person, unless it comes under section 27 of the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, should be excluded.

2. Confession to a private person in the presence of a police officer is sometimes being used, as the words "to a Police Officer" in section 25 of the Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872, are confounding. To remove that doubt the word "to" in the section should be substituted by the word "before".

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 56 OF 1940.

A Bill to give Hindu married women a right to separate residence and maintenance under certain circumstances.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for separate residence and maintenance under certain circumstances in the case of married Hindu women;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Married Women's Right to Separate Residence and Maintenance Act, 194 .

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the day of 194 .

Grounds for claiming separate residence and maintenance.

2. Notwithstanding any custom or law to the contrary a married Hindu woman shall be entitled to claim separate residence and maintenance from her husband on one or more of the following grounds, viz.—

(1) If the husband is suffering from leprosy, or any loathsome disease;

(2) If the husband is suffering from venereal disease;

(3) If the husband is an incurable lunatic;

(4) If the husband is guilty of cruelty towards her;

(5) If the husband deserts her;

(6) If the husband marries again;

(7) If the husband turns a recluse or changes his religion.

Jurisdiction.

3. Every suit under this Act shall be instituted in the civil court within whose jurisdiction the husband and wife ordinarily reside.

Amount of maintenance.

4. The amount of maintenance given by the courts to the wife shall not be less than one-fifth of the income of the husband.

Custody of the children.

5. The custody, maintenance and education of the children shall be as the courts decide.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

1. Even with regard to elementary rights of human beings, the position of a Hindu married woman is deplorable. This Bill intends to give her the right of separate residence and maintenance under unbearable conditions.

2. As to giving a Hindu wife the right of divorce there might be some slight difference of opinion in the Central Assembly, but as regards the right to give her separate residence and maintenance under certain inhuman conditions there was no difference of opinion. The House was unanimous in giving a Hindu wife this right. Accordingly a Committee was appointed by the Central Assembly, but unfortunately the Committee could not meet.

3. The Bill merely proposes to carry out what was unanimously agreed to in the Central Assembly.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 115L. — 28th January 1941. — The following Bill which was introduced in the Council of State on the 21st November 1940 and in regard to which a motion was carried that the Bill be circulated for the purpose of eliciting opinion thereon, is hereby published for general information together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons annexed thereto. Written expressions of opinion by any person or public body should be sent so as to reach the Judicial Department of the Government of Bengal not later than the 15th February 1941. Any opinion which is submitted direct to the Legislative Department or to any other department of the Government of India or of the Provincial Government will not be accepted for consideration.

[As introduced in the Council of State.]

TO

Amend the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Indian Limitation Act, IX of 1908, for a certain purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Indian Limitation (Amendment) Act, 1940.

2. In section 20, sub-section (1), omit the words "as such" occurring after the word "paid".

3. Payments of interest or principal made before this Act and acknowledgment thereof appearing in the manner prescribed by the proviso to section 20 shall save limitation as if the words "as such" were never enacted in the section.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The decision of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Rama Shah vs. Lal Chand, reported in A. I. R. 1940, P. C. 63, which places a strict interpretation on the words of section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act, has created considerable hardship. Endorsements of payments made by debtors towards a debt do not in all cases specify whether the payment is made towards interest as such or part of the principal. In practice, debtors also do not specify at the time of making payment whether the payment is made towards interest or principal. In many cases, the payments are made towards the debt or legacy due, and the mode of appropriation is left either to the creditor or is regulated in accordance with the course of business between the parties. If the decision of the Privy Council is allowed to stand, several promissory notes and bonds on which endorsements are made without specifying that the payment is made towards interest as such or principal would be held by courts to have become time-barred. It is, therefore, necessary to amend section 20 of the Indian Limitation Act in such a way as to give effect to the intention of the Legislature that a payment made towards a debt will have the effect of saving limitation, for all payments are intended to go either towards principal or interest or partly towards the one and partly towards the other, whether the endorsements so specify or not, provided the ackonwledgment of payment appears in the handwriting of, or in a writing signed by, the person making the payment. But in order to save endorsements of payments made before the passing of this Act, it is necessary to give retrospective effect to this Act, and provision is accordingly made that the section shall be so read as the words "as such" never existed in the section.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 54 OF 1940.

A Bill further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Specific Relief Act, 1877 for a certain purpose; It is hereby enacted as follows:— I of 1877.

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Specific Relief (Amendment) Act, 193 .

Amendment of sections 45 to 51, Act I of 1877.

2. In section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), I of 1877.

(a) after the words "Any of the High Courts of Judicature at Fort William, Madras and Bombay and Rangoon" the words "and the Court of the Judicial Commissioner in Sind" be added;

(b) for the words "within the local limits of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction" the words "within limits of its appellate civil jurisdiction" shall be substituted;

(c) in other clauses of section 45 and in sections 46 to 51 wherever the word "High" appears the word "Such" be substituted;

(d) in clause (f) of the proviso, for the words occurring after the words "On the Governor General in Council" the words "or the Governor in Council of any Governor's Province in British India" shall be substituted.

Amendment of section 48, Act I of 1877.

3. In section 48 of the said Act, for the word "ordinary" the word "appellate" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In view of the growing importance of Sind necessity of the exercise of power contained in section 45 of the Specific Relief Act, 1877, by the highest Court in Sind has been authoritatively declared. Cases often occur in Sind calling for the issue of Writs of the nature of Mandamus. The public opinion is strongly in favour of the power of the nature contained in section 45 being invested in the Judicial Commissioner of Sind's Court which has been exercising ordinary powers of a High Court.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 22nd November, 1940:—

L. A. BILL No. 55 OF 1940.

A Bill to provide for Judicial Separation and Divorce amongst the Hindus.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for judicial separation and divorce amongst the Hindus under certain circumstances;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title, extent and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Hindu Judicial Separation and Divorce Act, 194 .

(2) It shall apply to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force on the....day of..... 194....

Grounds fo claiming separate residence by wife or husband.

2. Notwithstanding any law or custom to the contrary, a Hindu wife or husband shall be entitled to claim separate residence from the married partner, and may bring a suit for the same in a court of law on one or more of the following grounds, viz.:

(1) if the husband or wife is suffering from any loathsome disease, leprosy, venereal disease;

(2) if the husband or wife is an incurable lunatic;

(3) if the husband or wife turns a recluse or changes religion;

(4) if the husband or wife commits adultery.

Grounds for claiming separate residence and maintenance by wife.

3. A wife may claim separate residence and maintenance from her husband—

(1) if the husband marries again;

(2) if the husband is guilty of cruelty towards her;

(3) if the husband deserts her.

Jurisdiction.

4. Every suit under this Act shall be instituted in the civil court within whose jurisdiction the wife ordinarily resides.

Maintenance.

5. The amount of maintenance given by the courts shall not be less than one-fifth of the income of the husband.

Custody of the children.

6. The custody, maintenance and education of the children shall be as the courts may decide.

Divorce.

7. The court may grant a decree of dissolution of marriage two years after the decree of judicial separation.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The institution of marriage as interpreted and practised today amongst the Hindus is very unfair to the wife and gives all the advantages to the husband.

The conscience of the Hindu community is very much stirred against this injustice to Hindu wives, as was seen in the recent discussion on the Bill to give Hindu women the right to divorce, and the public opinion collected on the Bill.

The present Bill removes some of the inequalities and puts the institution of Hindu marriage on a more natural and healthy basis.

New Delhi, the 30th January 1941.

No. 36-H.—His Excellency the Viceroy has been pleased to confer the Indian Police Medal on the following officer:—

Name of officer and rank.	Statement of services for which the decoration has been conferred.
Abdul Gaffur, Assistant Sub-Inspector, Burdwan district.	Assistant Sub-Inspector Abdul Gaffur went to the rescue of the Sub-Inspector in charge, who has been knocked down by the mob in course of attempting to control communal disturbances at Kulti, Burdwan district, on 22nd September 1940. Being unable to extricate the Sub-Inspector, the Assistant Sub-Inspector threw himself on the body of the Sub-Inspector and succeeded in shielding him from the attacks of the mob until help came from the remainder of the police force. The Assistant Sub-Inspector received severe injuries on the back and by his action probably saved the Sub-Inspector from being beaten to death.

This award is made for gallantry under regulation (d)(i) of the regulations governing the grant of the Indian Police Medal and consequently carries with it the special allowance admissible to officers of and below the rank of Inspector of Police

Draft by-laws under clauses (d), (e) and (f) of section 269 and under section 277 regarding privies, urinals and drains of water carriage system.

1. Every person who desires to connect his privies or urinals with the municipal underground sewerage system shall apply to the Commissioners for written permission.

2. The application shall be in such form as may be laid down by the Commissioners and shall be accompanied by a plan in triplicate on a scale of not less than sixteen feet to an inch, showing the whole of the drains and their sizes and gradients, the levels of the ground surface in reference to a datum specified by the Commissioners, and the position of every building, house gulley, soil pipe, waste-pipe, bath, privy, or urinal in the premises which it is proposed to connect with the municipal underground sewerage system.

3. The Commissioners may direct the person making the application to make such alterations or amendments in the plan as may seem to them necessary or desirable, and such person shall alter the plan accordingly, and if no such alteration or amendment is made within thirty days the application shall stand rejected.

4. When the plan has been approved, one copy shall be returned to the person making the application, signed by the Chairman, and two copies shall be retained in the municipal office.

5. Upon receipt of the approved plan and written permission to proceed, the owner of the premises may authorise a plumber licensed under this Act to execute the work under these by-laws except such portion as lies within a public highway:

Provided that if the work is not commenced within three months from the date of the permission, such permission shall be deemed to be cancelled.

6. No person shall commence to execute any work under these by-laws before obtaining a written permission from the Commissioners to proceed with the work.

7. Every person who applies for a connection of his privy or urinal with the municipal underground sewerage system shall deposit with his application a fee for each such connection, estimated to be equivalent to the cost likely to be incurred in connection with the work of such connection. If the Commissioners do not grant permission for the connection to be made within six months from the date of application the fee deposited shall be refunded.

8. On completion of the work under these by-laws the owner or occupier of the premises shall give notice of completion to the officer authorised by the Commissioners in this behalf. When that officer has certified that the whole of the work has been done satisfactorily and in accordance with these by-laws, the connection with the municipal underground sewerage system will be made by the Commissioners.

9. No person other than a plumber licensed under this Act shall execute any work in connection with the construction of a connected privy or connected urinal and its connection with the municipal underground sewerage system.

Note.—A list of plumbers licensed under this Act shall be maintained at the municipal office which shall be open to inspection at any time during regular office hours.

10. The materials used in the construction of any work executed under these by-laws shall be of such quality and description as may be laid down by the Commissioners in a standard specification to be drawn up by them, a copy of which shall be available for consultation to any person applying therefore. The Commissioners may from time to time alter this specification:—

Provided that such alteration shall not apply to any work commenced before the date on which the alteration is made.

General provisions as to drains.

10A. The provisions of these by-laws except by-law 7 shall, so far as possible, apply to the construction and connection of a drain of a building or land with a municipal drain or underground sewerage system.

11. The drainage system of premises connected with municipal underground sewerage system shall, so far as is practicable, provide for the diversion of all rain-water and surface water from the underground sewerage system to the municipal surface-water drains. With this object, the owner of the premises shall construct such intercepting gulley-pits, overflows and separate surface-water drains as he may be called upon by the Commissioners to make as a condition precedent to the grant of permission to connect the privies or urinals thereon with municipal underground sewerage system.

12. (a) Any inlet to any drain connected with the municipal underground sewerage system must be at least one foot above the highest known flood level at such inlet.

(b) Any inlet, other than an inlet from a connected privy or urinal, must be constructed at a place open to the sky.

13. No person shall discharge into any drain or overflow channel constructed for the purpose of discharging surface-water only any offensive matter, sewerage or rubbish so as to cause a nuisance or danger to health.

Pipe drains from premises.

14. All stoneware pipes shall be of a quality equal to the British standard specification, and shall be properly laid in straight lines vertically and horizontally and joined with tarred gasket and cement in conformity with the specification laid down by the Commissioners under by-law 10. Every change in direction shall be formed by properly curved pipes or channels. Such changes of direction shall, unless otherwise specially permitted by the Commissioners, be made in inspection pits.

15. All stoneware pipes shall be (i) laid upon a bed of good concrete as per specification of such width as may be approved by the Commissioners, and not less than six inches thick, and (ii) shall be covered for half its depth with concrete not less than four inches thick.

16. Except when otherwise specially permitted by the Commissioners in writing, the minimum fall of a pipe drain shall be as follows:—

Drains of four inches diameter 1 in 40.
Drains of six inches diameter 1 in 80.
Drains of nine inches diameter 1 in 150.

17. All pipe-drains shall be of adequate size and in no case shall any pipe-drain have a diameter of less than four inches nor more than such a size as may be specified by the Commissioners.

18. Cast-iron pipes used as drain-pipes shall be properly jointed with lead and yarn and caulked to the satisfaction of the Commissioners or any person authorized by them in this behalf.

19. Whenever necessary for protection of adjoining property, all excavation for the execution of any work under these by-laws shall be properly timbered.

20. Every pipe-drain shall be water-tight and shall be tested by the Commissioners or any person authorised by them in this behalf by water test. The water test shall be made to a pressure of four feet above the highest point of the drain. No pipe-drain shall be used until the Commissioners or any person authorised by them in this behalf shall have certified in writing that it has passed this test.

21. Every pipe-drain shall be ventilated by carrying up a vertical pipe or shaft from the upper end of the pipe drain, and such pipe or shaft to be not less than four inches in diameter and shall be fixed in such manner as effectually to prevent any escape of foul air from such pipe into any premises in the vicinity thereof, and in no case to a height of less than ten feet.

22. Every inlet to the pipe-drains not being a ventilating inlet specially provided for that purpose shall be trapped by an efficient trap so constructed as to give a water-seal of not less than two inches.

23. All gulleys, traps, gratings, covers or other appliances be of patterns, sizes and qualities in accordance with patterns approved by the Commissioners and kept in the municipal office.

24. No drain shall be laid under any building except when no other form of construction is possible. If a drain is laid under a building it shall be laid in a straight line throughout and so as to leave between the top of the drain at its highest point and the surface of the ground beneath the building, a distance of not less than the full diameter of the drain, and shall be constructed either of cast-iron pipes with socket and spigot joints, or else with stone-ware pipes completely surrounded with cement concrete at least six inches thick all round.

Adequate means of access shall be provided at each end of such portion of the drain as is beneath the building.

25. Any pipe drain passing under a wall shall be protected at the part through the wall by an arch, reinforced concrete slab, or iron support so as, in the opinion of the Commissioners or any person authorised by them in this behalf, to be of sufficient strength to prevent any disturbance of the pipe-drain caused by pressure or settlement of the wall.

26. Unless otherwise ordered by the Commissioners, a suitable trap shall be placed in a drain at a point as near as may be practicable to the junction of the drain with the municipal underground sewerage system.

Open Drains.

27. (1) Every open drain constructed after these by-laws come into force or provided for a new building, for the purpose of discharging surface or sullage water, shall be constructed of brick, masonry or concrete covered with a plaster not less than half an inch in thickness and containing not less than 33 per cent. of portland cement or any other cement approved by the Commissioners, or of natural or of artificial stone or of glazed half-round pipes, and shall be of such pattern and size and laid in such a gradient as may be specified by the Commissioners.

(2) Whenever an open drain is connected with a pipe-drain a trap shall be constructed at the end of the open drain immediately above the connection.

Such connection shall be covered by grating of cast iron or other suitable materials.

(3) Whenever an open drain is connected with a municipal open drain, such connection shall be made with a proper sweeping curve to the outfall, as may be approved by the Commissioners.

Maintenance.

28. The owner or occupier of any premises, a privy, urinal or drain of which is connected with the municipal underground sewerage system, shall at all times maintain in a proper state of repairs and in a sanitary condition all pipe-drains, open drains, traps and fittings, appliances and apparatus connected with the drainage of the premises.

29. The owner or occupier of any such premises shall give every reasonable facility to the Commissioners or any person authorised by the Commissioners in this behalf to inspect the drains, privies, urinals, sinks, bath-rooms or other buildings or apparatus connected therewith.

Closed cesspools or household septic tanks and soak pits.

30. When any person intends to instal a privy or urinal on the water carriage system, and there is no municipal underground sewerage system with which it may be connected, he may instal such privy or urinal on the condition that he provides a covered septic tank and a soak pit or a disposal gallery in conformity with the provisions of by-law 36.

31. A covered septic tank shall be constructed in accordance with the type design to be kept at the municipal office, together with means for disposal of the effluent from the septic tank.

32. The septic tank shall be constructed of water-tight masonry concrete, or earthenware, and shall have a capacity of not less than two cubic feet per user, the number of users being taken as the maximum number of persons who will ordinarily use the privy or urinal connected to the septic tank.

33. The means for disposal of the effluent of the septic tank shall consist of either—

(a) a covered soak pit or well, the bottom of which shall be carried down to a porus sandy stratum,—in any case to a depth of not less than two feet below the lowest subsoil water level. Soak pits may be lined or unlined, depending on the nature of the upper strata. An unlined soak pit shall be between eighteen inches and two feet in diameter, and the quantity of liquid run into it shall not be more than one hundred gallons per day. A lined soak pit or well shall have a horizontal cross sectional area of not less than one square foot for every twenty-five gallons of water discharged into it daily; or

(b) a disposal gallery, which shall consist of pipes of not less than four inches diameter, laid open-jointed in a bed of broken stone or brick at a depth of about fifteen inches below ground, and a gradient of not less than two inches per one hundred feet. The length of gallery shall be not less than a figure calculated at the rate of five feet per user when laid in porous sandy subsoil. The gallery may be in one line, or in parallel lines the distance between which is not less than six feet. When laid in heavy subsoil, the length of gallery shall be calculated at ten feet per user, and it shall be laid in two or three separate lengths fed from a junction manhole so arranged that one or more lengths can be cut off for rest.

Soak pits and disposal galleries shall be constructed in accordance with the type plans to be kept at the municipal office.

34. The sewers connecting from the privies or urinals to the septic tanks shall be constructed of such materials and in such manner as is laid down in by-laws Nos. 14 to 26.

35. The minimum quantity of water which shall be provided for the flushing of the water-closets and urinals is five gallons per user per day.

36. No septic tank, soak pit, or disposal gallery shall be constructed in ground which is liable to flood in rainy season, and no soak pit or gallery shall be constructed within one hundred feet (horizontal distance) from any common well or tube well which is used as a source of drinking water-supply. The general level of the pipes of a disposal gallery shall not be lower than that of the subsoil water level in the rainy season.

For rule 45B of the said rules, the following shall be substituted:—

"45B. Levy of grazing tax.

(1) Except as otherwise provided in this rule cattle (oxen and cows), buffaloes, goats and goyals owned or kept or grazed in the Chittagong Hill-tracts are all liable to be assessed to grazing tax.

(2) Grazing tax shall be assessed at the rates determined by the Deputy Commissioner with the apporval of the Commissioner.

(3) Hillmen who cultivate no land shall be liable to pay grazing tax for the cattle, buffaloes, goats and goyals owned or kept by them, but each resident family shall be allowed free of grazing tax four cattle, two unweaned calves and two goats or in the alternative two goyals or buffaloes, one unweaned goyal or buffalo calf and two goats. If any hillman keeps both cattle, goyals and buffaloes then one goyal or buffalo should be treated as equivalent to two head of cattle, and one goyal or buffalo calf as equivalent to two calves, for the purpose of calculating exemption and grazing tax payable.

(4) A hillman or resident plainsman who cultivates not less than 0·4 acre of land is entitled, in addition to the exemption specified in sub-rule (3), to keep free of tax the following:—

If he cultivates less than 2 acres of land—two cattle or one buffalo.

If he cultivates 2 acres of land or more—two cattle or one buffalo for every complete acre cultivated.

(5) Residents in bazar areas who cultivate no land shall be allowed one cow or one she-buffalo with an unweaned calf or buffalo calf free of tax.

(6) In case of cattle or buffaloes taken on hire bona fide for the purpose of cultivation either by hillmen or non-hillmen, the exemption to be allowed will be the same as allowed to non-hillmen under sub-rule (5). But no exemption shall be granted if the purpose of such hire is not cultivation of lands.

(7) A non-resident plainsman is allowed to bring to or keep in the mauza where he holds land one pair of cattle or one buffalo per complete acre (and not less than an acre) of land free of tax for the purpose of cultivation.

(8) The tax shall be re-assessed for every year or part of a year commencing on the 1st of April.

(9) Grazing tax shall be collected from bazar residents by bazar chaudhuries and from other persons by headmen. They shall grant printed receipts at the time of collection and enter the amounts in a cash book. They will be entitled (except in the case of servants of the Crown) to a commission on their collection at a rate determined by the Deputy Commissioner with the approval of the Commissioner.

(10) The payment of grazing tax entitles cattle, buffaloes, goats and goyals to be grazed in the waste lands vested in the Crown of one mauza only; if grazed in several mauzas they shall be liable to fresh assessment in each mauza. As a partial exception exempted cattle, goyals, buffaloes or goats may be grazed not only in the mauzas where the cultivator holds lands, but also in the mauza where he lives even if he has no land in that mauza.

(11) In conformity with and without prejudice to the provisions of this rule the Deputy Commissioner may issue instructions to headmen and bazar chaudhuries for carrying out the purpose of this rule."

PART IV A

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Assembly; Reports of Select Committees presented or to be presented to that Assembly; and Bills published before introduction in that Assembly.

BENGAL LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY DEPARTMENT.

NOTIFICATION.

No. 558L.A.—4th February 1941.—The following report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941, with the Bill embodying amendments recommended by the Committee, is hereby published for general information.

Report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941.

We, the members of the Select Committee to which the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941, was referred by a motion carried in the Bengal Legislative Assembly on the 28th November, 1940, have the honour to submit this our final report on the Bill embodying amendments recommended by us. Matter recommended to be omitted by the Select Committee has been printed in italics and enclosed in square brackets and all new matter recommended to be inserted has been underlined.

2. The Bill was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 7th November, 1940, before introduction.

3. We do not consider that the Bill has been so altered by our recommendations as to require republication.

4. The Committee met for the first time on the 11th December, 1940, and then again on the 13th and 14th December, 1940, when they concluded their deliberations on the Bill.

5. The reasons for the changes made in the Bill, apart from purely formal alterations, are as follows:—

Clause 2.

Sub-clause (b).—The definition of motor spirit has been revised primarily to exclude deisel oil from the purview of this Bill.

Sub-clause (c).—It was deleted as unnecessary in view of the amended definition of motor spirit in (b).

Sub-clauses (e) and (f).—The amendments here are of a purely drafting nature.

Sub-clause (g).—The amendment is aimed at making the intention clear.

Clause 3.

Apart from purely drafting changes the alterations here are consequential on the modified definition of motor spirit in Clause 2.

Clause 4.

New sub-clause (1A).—The explanation to sub-clause (1) has been renumbered as sub-clause (1A). We have also amended this sub-clause exempting the importer or whole-sale dealer from taking more than one licence although he may have more than one place of business, his position being obviously different from that of a retail dealer.

Sub-clause (3).—This has been omitted as unnecessary in view of the revised sub-clause (6) as recommended by us.

Sub-clause (5).—The proviso has been deleted as we considered the provision for any deposit of security unnecessary in view of the safeguards in other clauses of the Bill.

Sub-clause (6).—The intention of this amendment is to avoid unnecessary restriction on the dealer while he continues to pay taxes on petrol consumed or otherwise disposed of by himself.

Sub-clause (7).—We have considered it desirable to amend the clause requiring the Government to prescribe the limits within which the powers under this clause have to be exercised. (a) has been expanded with a view to generalise the provision and (c) has been deleted consequently.

Clause 7.

Substitution of the words "Land Revenue" for the words "Public Demand" has been made in order to make the All-India Act I of 1890 applicable.

Clause 8.

We did not think any particular form necessary for the keeping of the accounts by the importer or whole-sale dealer. We were also of opinion that quarterly returns by whole-sale dealers and importers would serve the purpose of this Act. (a) has been deleted and the clause amended accordingly. The words "in Bengal" have been inserted as it is not possible to check figures relating to places outside Bengal. Other alterations in the clause are of a consequential nature.

New clause 8A.

This new clause has been considered necessary to provide for cases of transfers of business by sale or succession.

Clause 9.

The alteration here has been intended for the convenience of the dealers.

New clause 9A.

This new clause has been inserted to preserve secrecy about internal affairs of business which was considered desirable in the interest of traders. The Provincial Government have, however, been empowered to sanction any disclosure which might be necessary under exceptional circumstances.

Clause 10.

New sub-clause (aa).—This has been inserted consequentially.

Clauses 11 and 12.

Clause 11 has been deleted as clause 12 was suitably amended to cover the entire provision in the clauses.

Clause 14.

Sub-clause (1).—This has been introduced as a safeguard against indiscriminate prosecution.

Clause 17.

The clause was deleted as we considered the existing law of limitation adequate for the cases contemplated and no special limitation was necessary or desirable.

Clause 19.

The amendments here have been necessitated by the amendments in the previous clauses of the Bill.

NOTE.—Signatures of Mr. Mia Abdul Hafiz, Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmed, Mr. Birat Chandra Mandal and Mr. Syed Ahmed Khan, M.L. A's., could not be obtained till the time of printing this report.

Minute of Dissent by Mr. J. F. Sinclair, M.L.A.

While I reserve to myself the right to suggest any amendments I may think fit when the Bill, as amended by the Select Committee, comes before the Assembly I sign the report subject to the following Minute of Dissent:—

1. I consider that a clause should be embodied in the Bill ensuring that the revenue collected by this taxation is used only for road construction, as is shown to be the intention in the Statement of Objects and Reasons.

2. Since the balance in the Road Fund Account is not likely to be exhausted until 1942, I consider that this Bill should not be brought into effective operation till April, 1942.

Addendum to the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941.

At page 2 of the report of the Select Committee on the Bengal Motor Spirit Sales Taxation Bill, 1941, after the name of Mr. J. F. Sinclair please add the name of Dr. Mafizuddin Ahmed who signed the report after it was printed.
